- Has lots of information to share and helps alot. Best tutor of the semester
- She was cheerful, passionate, kindly, and cool and understanding.
- She was a clear and understanding tutor, who was fair and equal to all students. She was also readily available and always responded to emails quick and efficiently.
- During the discussion she came into our groups discus with us and helping us with our problems. She has always being really helpful and nicely during the class
- Nadine is a very enthusiastic, kind and helpful tutor! I really appreciated her speedy and thorough responses to questions over email. She was always focused and cheerful in class and helped me to engage with the topics and the films. She also made the topics very interesting and I enjoyed this tute very much!

- Her enthusiasm with film studies, her kindness and how she is easily approachable, and her clarity with providing information. She was my favourite tutor this Semester as I felt comfortable around her and her attitude towards film inspired me to love film studies.
- Great class discussions
Encouraged participation - casual atmosphere
Deep analysis of lecture content and films
Attentive to our questions and input
- gives us opportunity to share our ideas in the class
- Her enthusiasm and kindness towards the whole class. She is the only tutor from all of my courses who I genuinely enjoyed working with and admire as a person. She is incredibly skilled at making everyone feel comfortable in the tutorial and equally including all students without singling anyone out.
- Group work was good as we got ideas from other students
- understanding. fair. communicated to the group well. Had a wonderful sense of humour. Was very professional in the way she went about teaching.
- encouraging us to speak up and share our thoughts
- Tutor shows many details of the film each week patiently and clearly.
- She is very knowledgeable and friendly and encourages class participation.
- Energetic and enthusiastic
- She was very passionate about film and was interested in helping us every step of the way and making sure we were all on the same page. She was very good at explaining aspects of films and getting everyone involved.
- Attentiveness
- The class is interesting and engaging.
- - clarity in presenting and explaining the lecture content
- openness in class: I felt that as students we were all encouraged to express our own opinions. The tutor was really helpful in facilitating class discussions and helped us to consolidate our thoughts.
- Interesting discussions in class. Provided useful feedback.
- Very smart and passionate about films which makes her the perfect tutor. Always open to questions and prepared and very social and helpful.
- She kept the class interesting and really showed us how to love all kinds of film
- My tutor has worked with the students very well, in helping us understanding the films.

This facilitator's / tutor's teaching in this course could be improved by

- Have the class do a few more challenging activities together.
- I engage in her teaching so I think nothing should be improved.
- No
- Nothing
- All good, no improvements needed.
- A more authoritarian approach to teaching. Sometimes I think being too nice might be taken as not having enough authority over the class
- Nothing that I can think of, she was easily the best tutor I had this semester.

- None
- Class often went overtime. And we would feel bad leaving, so end up staying too long and being late for other classes..
- Nothing I can think of.
- In-depth explanation of technical cinematographic concepts in class (aka. the list sent by email was very useful) because some terms were a bit difficult to understand
- n/a
- sending us more links to videos and resources discussed in class
- Tutor let students discuss a little bit long during the whole tutorial sometimes.
- She should be more confident, she seems nervous and unsure of herself at times.
- Nothing comes to mind, I thought Nadine was great!
- n/a
- NA
- Nothing. Shes one of the best tutors ive ever had
